

Primer

The figure ground is used as a medium to express vision. The existing built mass seems non-native, almost imposed and that is countered with an anchoring cycle. The site connections are brought in from the neighbouring parcels and the edges are appropriately responded. These lines are then inverted to achieve a conceptual grain. This conceptual grain becomes the primer for the proposal

